Performance

The table compares the fund performance with the ARC Private Client Indices (PCI) benchmark, a measure of a peer group of similar investment managers using similar asset allocations. The comparator benchmark is an indicator of similar investment strategies and does not show future returns or investor expectations. ARC monthly data is estimated and may vary from actual performance. ARC data is then confirmed at the end of each quarter, which could change monthly returns.

Monthly Market Commentary - September 2024

Global equities continued to post marginal gains, given persistent market volatility, returning 0.3% in sterling terms over September. Interest rate cuts continue to be priced in by the market, given the continued expectations for looser monetary policy from central banks. This supported the global aggregate bond market, rising by 1.1%.

The strongest performing developed equity region was Emerging Markets, predominately driven by China which returned 21.5% for September. The rally in the equity market began with the People's Bank of China pledging widespread monetary and fiscal stimulus measures to support the country's flagging economy. This led to a positive shift in investor sentiment for China's equity market, which has long been negative. Despite their positive momentum in previous months, UK Large Cap and European equities detracted from returns, falling 1.6% and 1.5%, respectively. Following the Bank of England's decision to start cutting interest rates in August, they held rates in their latest September meeting, halting the UK's recent gains. A tougher backdrop is starting to develop for Europe, with automakers being the biggest laggard, due to a slump in sales from China, which Europe's top car manufacturers now increasingly rely on.

Elsewhere, the broader commodity index fell 2.1% for September with Brent crude oil suffering some of the worst losses, falling 8.7%. The demand for interest-bearing assets rose, as investors anticipate monetary policy to loosen even further. This has supported the performance of Global Real Estate and Gold, which rose 1.0% and 2.9%, respectively.

Fund Objective

Investment Strategy - Aggressive

To achieve the fund objective the Manager will use investments in collective investment schemes such as unit trusts, OEICs and other UCITS funds and closed ended schemes. Generally, 85% of this fund is invested in equities but this figure may change by a maximum of  $\pm 12.5\%$  in the short term depending on variations in the stock markets, or in the longer term to keep the fund within its' risk boundaries.
